 Email communication / privacy policy

The Isle of Man Natural History and Antiquarian Society periodically sends out email updates to its membership, those who have subscribed to events and conferences run by the Society, and to those who have asked to be kept informed of the Society's activities. By providing your email address to the Society, you consent to receiving such updates, and membership correspondence, by email. In accordance with our obligations (including our registration under the IOM Data Protection Act), the Society takes all reasonable precautions to maintain the privacy of your email address, to ensure that the emails are only sent to those who have requested them, and that no third party can make unauthorised use of any @manxantiquarians.com email address to send out mailings. The Society will not pass your email address to any third party without your permission.

If you have provided the Society with your email address and no longer wish to receive updates, or if you receive unsolicited email from any @manxantiquarians.com address, then please inform us at communications@manxantiquarians.com and we will take appropriate action.
